

ACTinG Bulletin #12 June 2025

Email us: acting@gippslandanglicans.org.au

1. In this article for Eureka Street, Melbourne writer Barry Gittins reflects on how climate change disproportionately impacts the most socio-economically vulnerable, in ways that might be closer to home than we like to imagine.

<https://www.eurekastreet.com.au/article/inequality-in-an-age-of-weather-extremes>

2. Data just released by the National Church Life Survey (NCLS) shows that while 9 out of 10 Australian church leaders and 8 out of 10 churchgoers believe that Christians have a responsibility to be active about environmental issues, it remains only a 'moderate' concern relative to other issues.

<https://www.ncls.org.au/articles/churchgoer-views-on-the-environment/>